

THE CHANCE TO BE BRAVE, THE COURAGE TO DARE
BY LINDA STEIN

FAST, FURIOUS & FUNNY--LINDA STEIN GIVES HER
POWERPOINT PRESENTATION AT THE SACKLER CENTER FOR FEMINIST ART AT THE BROOKLYN MUSEUM, OCT 18, 2009.

An articulate artist-activist for peace and equality, Stein includes more than a hundred video and still images in her powerful 35-minute presentation, encompassing stark truths and funny anecdotes extending from the personal to the global.

With hilarious TV scenes of Tina Fey in 30 Rock decrying gender inequality while playing tennis with her boyfriend; movie clips of Stein throwing out Borat from her studio following his phony journalistic sexism; horrific moments from the popular video game, Grand Theft Auto; moral questions posed by Stein's YouTube video Can Wonder Woman Cra-ac-ck Gender Stereotypes?--and more, Stein probes, confronts and inspires her audience to be brave: personally, professionally and globally, to break the molds of gender constructions and gender constrictions.

Armed also with images of her heroic gender-bending, shape-shifting and empowering sculptural Knights, along with world-wide statistics of sexism, and other forms of institutionalized oppression in the art world and beyond, Stein encourages the viewer to imagine what it is like to slip into another skin, to swap bodies and shift genders to make the world a better place for men and women.
